New Delhi, March 19, 2020: The COVID-19 outbreak and the resultant uncertainty has impacted students, schools and educational institutes across India. Rising to the occasion, Indian test preparation major Aakash Educational Services Limited (AESL) has launched Live Online Crash Courses for students appearing for JEE/NEET.

Live Online Classes will be organised by Aakash Digital for students appearing for special exams like JEE/ NEET. The first batch for NEET and JEE has started from March 18, 2020 onwards, and more batches are scheduled from March 24th onwards.

This will help mitigate the impact that institute closures may have on students' learning process. This will also ensure that students can study from the safety of their own homes and there is a continuity in their study schedule.

The Live Online Crash Courses for NEET and JEE will be delivered using the Aakash Live platform, where students can learn from the best faculty of Aakash via Live Online Classes from the comfort and safety of their home. These Live Online Classes come with instant doubt resolution, ability to replay a missed class and watch it as many times as required, test series and best-in-class Aakash study material available instantly through e-books.

As a special initiative to help all JEE and NEET aspirants, access to pre-recorded lectures on Aakash iTutor (app available on Google Play Store) as well as for school students access to free live classes by Meritnation, (a leading edtech major and a subsidiary of AESL), for Classes VI to XII shall be provided.

Said Mr Aakash Chaudhry, Director and CEO of AESL, “We are glad to announce Aakash Live Online Crash Courses for students for their continual education from home. Our sessions will be interactive, allowing students to clear doubts, ask questions and be able to address their queries and concerns. We hope that students and educators will take advantage of our initiative.”
