New Delhi, October 26, 2020: Aakash, the national leader in test preparation services, has launched the first ever Aakash PG Plus program for students of medicine. Keeping the current situation in mind, the program is an exclusive digital course specially curated to coach doctors pursuing MBBS and professionals who have completed MBBS and are preparing for the PG entrance exam.

Aakash PG Plus program offers Aakash Energizer, a crash course for students who will be appearing for NEET Post Graduation entrance exam in January, 2021.

Aakash Energizer crash course will have four major offerings for students. First, students will get access to the India Mock Test (APEX series) by Aakash. Second, recorded lectures of approximately 130 hours with detailed discussion of previous year papers will be shared with the enrolled students. Students will also get high yield notes and doubt resolution features to hone their preparatory skills.

The entire content provided through "Aakash Energizer" available to students through the Aakash PG Plus app. The program will be guided by super specialty faculty members who had been toppers in NEET PG /AIIMS PG/PGI examinations past. The study material including video lectures, notes, and high yield notes have been collated after several years of meticulous and thorough research in study methodology, content relevance, and exhaustiveness. The faculty members will be available on Aakash PG Plus App for doubt resolution. The program will also provide ultra-high yield notes for revision making the humongous and never ending medical syllabus all the more crisper.
